

BIOGRAPHIES

RAYMUNDO PEIXOTO

Manager, Dell Brazil

Raymundo Peixoto is responsible of Dell Brazil, the largest operation of the company in Latin American. In this position, Peixoto is in charge of the multinational unit of the company, which includes the manufacturing industry, and the design and contact centers. Peixoto also supervises educational, health and corporate issues.

Before joining Dell in May 2003, Peixoto had several management positions in different international companies in the regional market, including IBM and Oracle.

Raymundo Peixoto graduated as Aeronautical Mechanic Engineer from the Aeronautical Institute of Technology in Brazil and studied Advance Management at Harvard Business School in 2008.